

Civil Services under the Constitution

Broad outline of the Chapter I of part XIV of the Constitution

- Chapter I contains seven articles, of which Articles 309, 310, 311 and 312 are the most material. They deal with matters as indicated below:
- Art. 309 - It itself makes no provision for recruitment or conditions of service of Government servants but confers powers upon the appropriate legislature to make laws and upon the President and the Governor of a State to frame rules in respect thereof.
- Art. 310 - It relates to the tenure of office of the members of the defence services and of civil services and accords constitutional sanction to the doctrine of pleasure.

Broad outline of the Chapter I of part XIV of the Constitution

- Art. 311 - It provides for certain safeguards to persons employed in civil capacities under the Union or a State but not to members of the defence services.
- Art. 312 -It refers to the All India Services. It speaks of how a new All India Service may be created. It also authorises the parliament to make Law regulating the recruitment to and conditions of services of the members of the All India Services.

Doctrine of pleasure in the Indian context

- The Civil Services in India are modelled upon the British pattern, though there are important differences between the two. The doctrine of pleasure has been adopted in India subject to certain exceptions, that is, in a modified form. The rigour of the British concept of “Doctrine of Pleasure” has been toned down in India.
- Here, in India, a Govt. servant holds his office during the pleasure of the President or the Governor, as the case may be - President if he is an employee under the Central Government and Governor, if he is an employee of any State Government. There are restrictions imposed upon the doctrine of pleasure in India.

Restrictions on the Doctrine of Pleasure

The doctrine of pleasure is subject to the safeguards provided by Article 311. In other words, Art. 311 is a proviso to Art.310 (1).

The doctrine of pleasure is controlled by the Fundamental Rights.

There are certain constitutional functionaries who do not hold their offices during the pleasure of the President or the Governor, such as Judges of the Supreme Court and High Courts, the Chief Election Commissioner, Election Commissioners and Regional Commissioners and the CAG.

Safeguards of Article 311- an outline

(2) No dismissal or removal or reduction in rank.

without inquiry in which :-

(i) charge should be communicated to the Government Servant concerned.

(ii) he and she should be given reasonable opportunity of being heard in respect of charges, and

(iii) penalty may be imposed on the basis of evidence adduced during such inquiry.

- Article 311 to whom it applies:-

- (a) a member of an All India Service.
- (b) a member of a civil service of the Union.
- (c) a member of a civil service of a State.
- (d) a person who holds a civil post under the Union or a State.

Article 311 does not apply to

- (a) a civilian employed in a defence department.
- (b) an employee of a statutory corporation like LIC, Food Corporation of India etc. or of a Government Company.
- (c) Defence Personnel.

Exceptions where Inquiry as enjoined under Article 311(2) may be dispensed with

1. Where a person is dismissed or reduced in rank on the ground of Misconduct which has led to conviction or criminal charges {clause(a) of Article 311(2)}
2. Where in the interest of the security of state, it is not expedient to give such an opportunity to the civil servant {clause(b) of Article 311(2)}
3. Where it is impracticable to give the civil servant an opportunity to defend himself but the authority taking action against him shall record the reasons for such action{clause(c) of Article 311(2)}

Fundamental Rights and the Government Servants

- Article 33 authorizes the Parliament to abrogate or restrict fundamental rights in their application to certain categories of Govt. servants as specified therein, namely, members of the armed forces such as Army, Navy, Air Force, Police Force charged with the maintenance of public order and persons employed in any Bureau or any Organization established by the State for the purpose of intelligence and counter-intelligence, and persons employed in connection with telecommunication systems such as Intelligence Branch of the Govt. of India, RAW, IB, SSB (Special Service Bureau) and the wireless department attached to any police organization
- If you check up Army Act, Navy Act, Air Force Act, you will find instances of abrogation or restriction of fundamental rights in respect of defence personnel

Conditions of Service-What do they mean?

- All those conditions which regulate the holding of a post by a person right from the time of his appointment till his retirement and even beyond it in matters like pension etc. The various conditions are-- Salary, Increments, Efficiency Bar, Leave, Transfer, Probation, Confirmation, Promotion, Deputation, Lien, Technical Resignation, Retirement, Pension, Gratuity, Conduct, Suspension, Tenure, Termination, Disciplinary Proceedings, Subsistence Allowance and Punishment. This list is not exhaustive but it is only illustrative.
